

MAGISTRATE VISITS GYPSY CAMP AGAINST WHICH ARE COMPLAINTS

Director Hornaday Says the Way in Which They Live
Is Intolerable.

Director W. T. Hornaday of the New York Zoological Park in the Bronx appeared today as witness against the gypsies of White Plains Road, near the park, before Magistrate Appleton in West Farms court. They were charged with violating the sanitary code by pitching tents where there was no running water.

The actual complainants were Capt. John J. McKeown of the Westfield station and Inspector James X. O'Meara of the Board of Health. Mr. Hornaday exhibited a package of letters which he said he had received from prominent citizens encouraging him in his effort to dislodge the gypsy squatters. He told how their animal shows and their singing and crying of their wares interfered with the peace of the animals in the park enclosure and diverted into unworthy channels the nature students who went to the park.

"I cannot give you the names of the writers of these letters," said Mr. Hornaday. "I am sworn to secrecy. The writers fear bodily vengeance from these men. But if your Honor could but accompany me to the spot and see how these people live I know you would see they are not citizens. They pay no taxes. No school or hospital or police protection is denied to them. Yet they live in a way which would not be tolerated if it were followed by any of our own people."

The gypsies said they had been paying $2 a month each to a contractor of the neighborhood as rent and did not know they were on city property. They had an application, they said, before the Board of Health for permission to stay and asked for an adjournment until it was acted upon.

Magistrate Appleton adjourned court and accepted Mr. Hornaday's invitation to visit the encampment.

CAN'T SPEND HIS $200,000.

So Iowa Congressman Gives Some of It to President Wilson.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Representative Kirkpatrick of Iowa has found $200,000—but he can't spend a bit of it. He gave President Wilson some of it today in 13 denominations.

"Here's some money for you," said Mr. Kirkpatrick. "I thought your interest in currency legislation might extend to some of this money."

The President said he was grateful. Examining the bills, he found they were issued by State banks in 1912, which became worthless when the national banking system was instituted.

TWO OVECOME BY GAS

Laborers Found Unconscious in Room in Greek Hotel.

Two Greek laborers were removed this morning unconscious from the effects of gas, from the Greek Hotel, at No. 4 Greenwich street, to the Hudson Street Hospital. One of them is Denis Slanin, thirty years old. The police were unable to get the name of the other man. Both arrived at the hotel last night. This morning there was an odor of gas in the hall and it was traced to their room. Patrolman Perez, of the Greenwich street station, broke open the door of the room. The two men were found unconscious. They will probably recover.

The police report the case as an accident.
